

Bubbles - My Plan

- I can create a story map by drawing pictures.
- I can use my imagination to think of an extra place the second girl might go to.

When the girl was walking across the beach, how was she feeling?

What did she find?

What did she do next?

Where did she travel first? What did she see?

Where did she travel next? What did she see?

Where did she travel next? What did she see?

Who did she see in the distance?
How was the person feeling?

Where could this girl go first? What does she see?
